RHYTHMLINK INTERNATIONAL RECOGNIZED IN DESIGN CONTEST

COLUMBIA, S.C. - November, 2007 - Rhythmink International's rebranding efforts were recognized in a design contest sponsored by Dynamic Graphics magazine called Re:Design. The contest provides designers the opportunity to showcase how they've improved on projects by entering their "before" and "after" pieces.

Entries in the premier competition featured everything from newsletters, brochures and advertisements to stationery, packaging and student work. Rhythmink, a company that designs, manufactures and distributes neurodiagnostic accessories as well as provides custom engineering solutions and manufacturing, entered its product catalog for review.

"After redesigning our logo in 2007, the catalog was the next logical step," said Lori Melton, Rhythmink's marketing director. "And since we already knew the logo was a winner, we decided to enter our catalog in Dynamic Graphics' competition."

Earlier this year, Rhythmink's logo won the Silver Award in the International Davey Awards Competition, and as Rhythmink predicted, the catalog redesign was a success as well. Rhythmink was awarded with a feature in Dynamic Graphics' January 2008 issue showcasing the product catalog designs.
